While waiting for the Aurora Borealis we teach you, with help of the camera, about for example the arctic nature, Sami culture and the basics of northern lights and night photography. We take pictures not only of the northern lights but also of ourselves and of the nature around us.

We can never guarantee that we will see the aurora but if it is not an auroral night we will teach you how you later, with your own camera, can create beautiful northern light images.

Depending on the aurora forecast and the weather we have several locations to choose from, we drive up to 40 minutes from Kiruna to find open skies.

We recommend you to wear warm clothes for the season, mittens, gloves and a warm hat.
